And you'll have more time to play.

Your career demands a lot from you.

Training, practice, travel, games. But you also have a life off the court – one that can sometimes seem just as busy and complicated.

Wouldn't it be nice to have someone you could trust to take care of the important details around your home and lifestyle? Someone to do the grocery shopping, plan the dinner party, have the car detailed or get you a deal on cool electronics. Someone who could whip your computer into shape, arrange for home repairs and maintenance and find a very special gift.

You can have all that and more.

Just ask LuLu.
